"MARK MY WORDS"

MARK BALLARD, PRESIDENT
NATIONAL SCRIP COLLECTORS ASSOCIATION
1204 ANDERSON DRIVE
MARION, ILLINOIS 62959

The National Convention at Bridgeport went well! There were 27 people needing tables on Saturday and I want to thank each member who had to share a table.

Two great displays were presented with Don Henderson winning "Peoples Choice" award and First Place. Crawford Blakeman's rare KY tokens won 2nd Place. Great job, guys!! We need additional members to plan exhibits for our next meeting.

We all owe Jim Thompson a big "thank you". He went all out to make the show one of our best. Jim, the Friday night meal was one of the best I have had.

Joe Copeland has done a great job for NSCA as the PR man. Joe wants to pass the job along and I have appointed R. R. Tippy of Cartersville, IL in his place. Tip has years of PR experience and will go all out in this job.

Members from several states were on hand including Alabama, Kentucky, Tennessee, Illinois, Ohio, West Virginia, New York, and Virginia. I hope I got them all.

Bill Stump has done a great job on the Membership Badge Committee and he presented a check to NSCA for the badges sold. Bill has only 30 left so better get on board before they are all gone. It is a great help in identifying the members attending the meetings.

We hope that Raymond Cole and his wife are doing better. We had word that Mrs. Cole had an automobile accident and that Raymond is recovering from his medical problems.

The highlight of the Bridgeport show for me was the presentation to Dave Schenkman of the FRED LANGE OUTSTANDING MEMBER AWARD. I have known Dave for several years and he is one of the most helpful to the new members getting started in token collecting. Dave has always been there when called on and he has published several books on tokens. A most dedicated token collector! Thanks, Dave, from all in NSCA.

The Spring 1992 show will be set soon. We are looking at Paintsville and Hazard, Kentucky. The Fall 1992 show will probably be in Huntington, WV. Watch the bulletin for details and dates and remember to call in your reservations early.

We are always open to your ideas and comments so please let me hear from you and don't forget to SIGN A NEW MEMBER FOR NSCA !!

SPECIAL NOTE: The Janitor apologizes for the poor printing on some of the pages in this issue. It seems that we are always having trouble with the equipment used to print the bulletin. Rather than hold up this issue for a month while getting the bugs out of the machines, I went ahead. Hope that you can make out the pages where the printing is weak !!

CATALOG COMMENTARY

Earlier this year, we made an appeal in SCRIP TALK for a clear foil of WV1319 B1 Anchor Coal Co that would show whether or not there were two rosettes or two stars on the reverse. C. W. Colley sent us a foil that clearly shows two STARS on the reverse. Therefore, you can change the book listing of WV1319B1 to read ORCO Pat Pend (Two Stars). Thanks Colley.

When we are asked to check a token in a Company's listing, we often look at the other foils in the file. In this case, we found that WV1319C50 has two stars on the reverse and that C100b does NOT have any stars on the reverse. We also found an E5b, N 20mm, Rd Co, with the cutout reversed from the others in the E series. Therefore, please add the E5b with cutout as E5b.

KV2289 C Series Coal River Collieries, Prestonsburg Ky ICS reverse with E cutout. Dave Whisman has submitted information stating that the company's mine was located in Eureka, Ky, a small community adjacent to Prestonsburg. We have agreed to continue the listing at Prestonsburg with the footnote "Store and office at Prestonsburg and mine at nearby Eureka".

WV2973 A & B Series R. G. Bailey's Store, Wandal, WVa Edkins lists MNISC Des Pat/In Mdisc. Only on reverse of all A & B series. The fil foils all show the reverse as MNISC Des Pat/In Merchandise.

SCRIP TALK

'DIS AND DATA' as space and time permits....As noted in another section of the bulletin, I can't win for loseing...The printing on some pages of this issue is horrible!! Hope that you can make out most of it and I will keep trying to get the equipment in proper order before the next issue!!! Sadly, we report the death of Scriptor A. B. Coleman - Scriptor William D. Oglie - and former member and one of the original scrip collectors Ed James. ...Scriptor Steve Ratliff pens that the most prudent course for NSCA at the present regarding the placing of the catalog on computer is to wait until a year before the next publication to make a decision. The changing technology of the computer makes equipment obsolete almost as fast as it is released...SCRIPTOR MARK DELAWYER, 550 So. Slinton St., Syracuse, NY 13202 advises that he has been asked to assist in writing a history of the Coke & By-products industry in the U.S. This will be tied into all of the coal companies which also ran coke operations. He wants to include photographs of company stores, company scrip, etc. which will be credited to NSCA. Too, he plans to include info on Baldwin-Felts and other company detectives. He needs to hear from NSCA members that can contribute to this effort.....ASIDE TO SCRIPTOR CHRIS JONES: Yes, I would like to see your paper mining collection material and might want to reproduce some of it in SCRIP TALK...Scriptor Bill Stump has sold additional membership name tags (for all Scriptors to wear at NSCA meetings) and reports NSCA realized $626.25 (to date) for these tags. For the information of all, Bill handled this project in great fashion and no part of the sales went to him. Hopefully, this will correct a misunderstanding on the part of a few members... As this is being typed (Oct. 25th, we are having a heat wave in WV. For the past few days, the temperature has been near 75 degrees...Hate to believe that it will be snow flying in these parts in a few weeks... More later as time allows....

BELL COUNTY COAL MINES

ASHER COAL MINING CO.

By: W. C. Stump

In 1989, I wrote a three-part article entitled The T. J. Asher Story, which covered the life and times of one of Bell County, Kentucky's pioneer lumber and coal producers. I wrote that his first venture into coal production came with the opening, in 1910, of the Varilla Mining Company. At the time I wrote this, I was sure I was right in my statement. All the research material at my disposal verified my statement. Alas, I was wrong and I hereby wish correct my error made in the chapter, The Asher Coal Mining Company.

While browsing through the records of the Harlan County Coal Operators excellent library, I came across a mine inspection report dated 1911 dealing with the Asher Coal Mining Co. The mine inspectors report stated that the Asher Coal Mining Company had been operating a mine, listed at the Dorothy Mine, at or near Wasioto, Ky. before the opening of the Varilla operation. The Head Office and Express Office were located at Wasioto, Ky. and the coal was shipped via the L & N R. R. A spur line ran to the T. J. Asher Saw & Planing Mills, also located at Wasioto, Ky. This new information puzzled me to say the least so I decided to try and find out the exact facts that seemed to be almost lost to history.

The Dorothy Mine was under the Foremanship of Mr. W. L. Potter. The coal seam was about 50 inches thick and had very little or no parting. The roof was slate and not very good. The coal seam was very near the top of the mountain and covering is very light which caused the roof not to be very good. The floor was of soft clay for a few inches and was then sandstone.

The mine was equipped with an electric power plant composed of a 500 k. w. steam turbine generator, 2,300 volt G. E. generator, and a Curtis turbine. A 6 ton G. E. locomotive and three Sullivan Shortwall mining machines also made up the mining equipment. The coal was gathered to a siding inside the mine by mules. They used one electric locomotive for haulage to an incline that led 2,000 feet direct to the tipple. The output was about 250 tons per day.

Both squibs and fuse were used with black powder for blasting the coal after it had been undercut by the machinery. It was noted in the report that not much powder was needed and that a double entry system was used.

Just before Christmas, I mentioned my findings concerning the Asher Coal Mining Co. to my good friend, King D. Rice. As it happens, Mr. Rice is the great-grandson of T. J. Asher and the Certified Accountant of the Asher Coal Mining Co. holdings which are still active today. His mother is the grand-daughter of T. J. Asher. Mr. Rice said that he would look into the facts and let me know what he could find out about the first coal mines operated by his great-grandfather. I also mentioned that I would like to have an example of the company scrip that was used at the lumber processing plant to go with my example of Varilla Mining Company scrip. He said that he didn't have any scrip but would check with the surviving Asher heirs for me but that he never recalled personally seeing an example of such scrip.

On Christmas Eve, Mr. Rice came by my store and handed my wife and I each an envelope as his annual expression of the season. I never dreamed that he had given me something that I had longed for for months. To my surprise, as I opened the envelope, I found myself holding an uncirculated .50 cent token of the T. J. Asher Saw & Planing Mills company scrip. Needless to day, his gift made for a very Merry Scripmas indeed.

As I relished the moment, and fondled my new scrip treasure, he informed me that the lumber scrip was also used at the mining operations during the brief period before the Southern Mining Company leased the coal properties of both the Dorothy and Tejay mines. The company store at Wasioto, originally the company store for the lumber camp, also served as the company store for the miners. By 1914, the Varilla Mining Company was also leased to the Southern Mining Company, as were most of the Asher Coal Mining properties. The actual mining of coal ceased as a direct part of the Asher Coal Mining Co. at this time.

Varilla Mining Company used company scrip manufactured from aluminum, but the T. J. Asher Saw and Planing Mills scrip was produced by the firm of Murdock from German Silver and dates as one of the earliest tokens used by a Bell County lumber and coal producer.

My latest information may give the catalogue committee something to think about. Should the T. J. Asher Saw and Planing Mills lumber scrip be listed in the proposed update of Edkins Catalogue as coal scrip as well as lumber scrip? After all, the Inter-Mountain Coal and Lumber Co., Inc., from Putney, Ky., is listed as being coal scrip when in fact, the company never produced coal at the Putney, Ky., location. The company scrip has coal and lumber printed on the scrip, but the Putney operation was strictly a lumber processing plant, not a coal producer. The company did own property with vast coal resources, but had a man by the name of Black Sol Day mine coal which they, in turn, sold to their employees who lived and worked in the lumber camp. My father and grandfather worked for the Inter-Mountain Coal and Lumber Company, and I was born in the old lumber camp. It is a well-known fact that this company was not a prime coal producer, yet, it's company scrip is listed in Edkins as coal company scrip. The same is true in the case of the Asher lumber and coal mining companies; more lumber was produced than coal, but the coal was sold for public use. The mining employees as well as the lumber employees used the lumber scrip and spent it at the T. J. Asher Commissary at Wasioto, Ky. Because of these reasons, I personally think the scrip should be listed under both coal and lumber.

With the active end of direct mining operations in 1914, the Asher Coal Mining Company went on to become one of the longest lived companies to be involved in the coal industry. As the 1990's brings us closer to the 21st Century, the legacy of T. J. Asher continues to be part of the Bell County coal mining history.
